ISSUES OF TREASURY NOTES.

Immediately after the Secretary of the Treasury of ury determined to issue three years bonds, subscriptions therefor began to be made. The engraving and printing (delayed for more than two weeks in consequence of the addition of coupons) were not completed until the 1st of October. The number of subscribers had in the were obliged to wait their turn in the issues. A want of knowledge of this vast accumulation caused some to demur at the delay. It was regretted, but was a spur to extra exertion. First Lieut. Geo. W. Snyder, Engineers, This evening the entire back work will be one of the most promising young officers in brought up, and the clerks of the Treasury the army, who was with Major Anderson at will, for the first time, have the privileges of a amounts to the enormous sum of $70,122,000, to which is to be added the work of to-day, Major King, who has been paying off the which, as usual, will not be completed until
